GREECE INVADED BY ALLIES

She Knows

Asked by a waitress if she knew about a war going on, Miss Lorna Slocombe of Cambridge, a seven-time blood donor and fiancée of a serviceman in the Pacific, swept out of a Harvard sq., tearoom with such gusto she upset a trayful of crockery, and was hauled into East Cambridge court today. Her case was continued to Oct. 16. INP by Lester MacLellan

Sink 11 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—American submarines, ripping Japanese supply lines, have destroyed another 11 enemy vessels, including three war craft, the Navy announced today. The craft included a destroyer, an escort vessel a seaplane tender, six cargo ships, a large tanker and a cable ship.

Invasion Greece, Seize Port

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ROME, Oct. 5 (INS)—Aided by Greek patriots who gave them an uproarious welcome, Allied invasion forces have landed in strength in the Peloponnese area of Greece, liberating the port of Patrai and islands in the vicinity to isolate the German garrison still controlling Crete.

Announcement of the new thrust—second Allied invasion of the Balkans in less than a month—was made by Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean.

Spearheaded by parachutists dropped from transport planes in broad daylight, other Americans and British streamed ashore from barges.

Corfu and other islands off the southern tip of the Peloponnese were taken at the same time.

An official announcement disclosed that RAF Spitfires already were operating from captured Greek airfields.

In the last two weeks of a preparational softening-up air offensive, 1100 bombers dropped more than 2000 tons of bombs on the Greek mainland and the Aegean islands, paralyzing Nazi evacuation attempts.

Attacks were concentrated mainly against the Eleusis, Tatoi and Kalamaki airdromes near Athens.

From the Dalmatian island of Brac British artillery is now pounding the Yugoslavian mainland to harry withdrawing Germans.

Stepped-up naval operations in the Aegean sea were co-ordinated with the new landings.

The British cruiser Aurora shelled the Maleme airport at Crete on the night of Oct. 2. The following night British warships destroyed six enemy assault vessels off Piscopi island northwest of Rhodes, while large fires were set among enemy emplacements on the latter island. Levithi island in the southern Aegean and Porto Lango on Leros were attacked by carrier-based planes.

Widen Gaps in West Wall

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Heavy fighting flared along the Nijmegen-Arnhem corridor today as British infantry attacked in several sectors, gaining a mile in one eastward advance toward the German frontier.

U. S. tanks and infantry, fighting at the edge of the Cologne plain after tearing a three-mile breach in the original Siegfried Line at Ubach, battled forward slowly against hardened German resistance centering on newly-constructed defenses.

The doughboys beat down an armored counterattack on their southern flank. The Germans admitted the Americans had widened their wedge.

LT. Gen. Dempsey's main attack eastward was launched on a six-mile front from south of Arnhem and was aimed in the direction of Pannderschen, two miles from the German border north of Kleve. Canadian troops hurled the Germans back from Fts. Capellen and Starbrueck, five to seven miles north of Antwerp, in a thrust within seven miles of the narrow land neck over which the only road runs from the mainland to the Dutch islands of Beveland and RAF-flooded Walcheren.

One of the strongest battles of the war developed amid sniping and smoke of fire grenades and burning crude oil at Ft. Driant, key bastion to Metz. American Third Army doughboys held the surface and fought with desperation in the maze of underground defenses.

AP Correspondent Edward D. Ball reported in a dispatch from the Metz front that the Americans had made their first penetration last night into Ft. Driant's subterranean tunnels.

Capture of the fort was announced prematurely at supreme headquarters yesterday on the basis of information from front-line headquarters before the full tenacity of the German stand was known.

Now it was a tough-and-go fight, with the Americans holding grimly under cross fire from flanking forts and sniping from German trapdoor gun positions.

The Americans smoked out some of the Nazis with phosphorus grenades and poured flaming oil down hidden passages on others, but still had the job of quarrying out the remainder of the German garrison.

The American Third Army repulsed a German counterattack near Sierzy, nine miles north of Nancy.

The Seventh Army kept up its measured gains farther south in the face of hardening resistance. At Ronchamp, 10 miles west of Belfort, French forces of the Seventh Army mopped up one German holdout pocket.

The fall of temporary truce lines, almost unaltered over Dunkirk, The Germans had cleared a line through their defensive mine field and 20,000 civilians began filing out, laden with possessions they could carry, into the Canadian lines. The evacuation will end tonight.

Then, by agreement, the Canadians will give the Germans 12 hours to relay mines before the all-out assault begins at dawn.

V-2 Failure

LONDON, Oct. 5 (INS)—The London Daily Mail printed a dispatch from Stockholm today saying that Germany's new V-2 rocket bomb had been put into operation but had proved a complete failure. The dispatch quoted a neutral observer just arriving in Sweden after service with the German army.

5th Gains Mile In Italy Drive

ROME, Oct. 5 (AP)—U. S. Fifth Army troops drove a mile forward against violent fire from reinforced Germans yesterday on the road to Bologna to within 14 miles of that communications center.

The doughboys seized a ridge north of La Selva and gained positions just short of Monte Morosino on the Imola road. On their left flank they took the towns of Cusiano and Quinzano despite artillery fire.

The British Eighth Army advanced up to two miles northwest of Castagno, and South African units entered Lagaro, on the Prato-Bologna road.

Heavies Batter Cologne, 5 Cities

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—More than 1000 Flying Fortresses and Liberators hit German targets at Cologne, Rottum, Hunsdorf, Lippstadt, Paderborn and Munster in desultory weather today.

Two main forces with strong fighter escort attacked the choiced targets at Cologne and Rottum, while smaller formations added airfields at the other places.

New Allied Smash at Jap Oil

By the Associated Press
Tokyo radio indicated today that Allied bombers are waging no time in their long-distance campaign to knock out the vital oil producing center at Balikpapan, Borneo.

A Domei News Agency broadcast reported 40 four-engine bombers struck Tuesday in the second mass raid. Sixty Liberators struck the first heavy blow three days previously.

Heavy shipping losses have already reduced Japan's ability to GREECE—Striking from sea and air, British forces have entered Greece, taken the port of Patrai (A) and seized the airport. In Albania other Allied troops are harassing Germans near Saranda (B). Off southern Greece Allied forces have landed on the island of Kythera (C).

Belgrade Totters Before Reds' Headlong Advance

MOSCOW, Oct. 5 (AP)—Russian armored spearheads advanced today upon the rail junction of Pancevo, a city of 22,000 less than nine miles northeast of Belgrade, and front dispatches indicated the Yugoslav capital may fall in a matter of hours.

The German position in all of the Belgrade area was declared untenable. The Russians have a big encircling maneuver ready to put into effect if the enemy tries to dig in.

The Rome radio said Russian troops were fighting in the suburbs of Belgrade.

Closing in from the captured towns of Banatska Kraljevicevo, 15 miles northeast of Belgrade, and Debeljacha, 18 miles to the north, Marshal Molotov's forces cleared two rail lines leading to Pancevo and aimed toward cutting the main railway running northwest from the capital.

Led by Yugoslav Partisan scouts, Malinovsky's troops advanced 27 miles in 24 hours in taking Debeljacha.

In Southwest Burma the Japanese apparently were preparing to abandon their Tiddim base.

GREEK COUP LIKE STORY OF ULYSSES

By SID FEDER

IN WESTERN GREECE, Oct. 2 (delayed)—Not many miles from the mythical birthplace of the legendary Ulysses, the convoy which has invaded Greece ran into a set of circumstances that would have fitted exactly into his strange travels.

Just a few hours from the small port where the landings were made, a severe storm sprang up. Two waterspouts whirled up from the sea toward the convoy. Only by evasive tricks were the captains able to keep their vessels from being struck.

The amphibious forces found a full scale supply dump awaiting them.

Troop carriers dropped the first troops in Greece, and these established supply dumps with material also ferried by plane. Men and women in peasant dress helped assemble the stores.

"The peasants tried to force eggs, tomatoes and even turkeys on us," one of the fliers recounted. "When we refused, they tried to slip eggs into our pockets. I told them nobody had time to cook the turkeys so they cooked them for us."

The original plane landings were followed quickly by Spitfires and supply planes loaded with fuel and food which made ready for seaborne forces who landed three days later.

"When these fellows got off the boat on D-Day, they even had mail waiting for them," one officer said. "The only casualty in the whole operation was one cow. A transport plane landing at night broke the animal's back."

Many peasants were in pitiable condition because the Germans pillaged the countryside of medicine, food and clothing. Quinine especially was lacking. Malaria abounds.

The first invasion craft proudly displayed a Greek flag. Greek natives showed the troops with flowers.

Throughout the night of D-Day, hunch bells rang and word of the invasion traveled swiftly ahead of the column.

Whenever a spearhead was halted by a blown bridge, it was surrounded quickly by men and women offering food and drink.

Spitfire pilots said that when they landed, natives rushed over and patted their planes shouting, "Long live our English friends." Virtually everyone wished to kiss their liberators.

"Most of the embracing was done by old women and men, and many of the men had beards," Flight Lt. Derek Rake said. "The young girls didn't embrace us. They just shook hands and shouted: 'Wonderful, wonderful!' They had learned a little English in secret schools."

Boston Greeks Thrill at News

News of the initial steps in Greece's liberation was received in Boston by Americans of Greek descent with a fervor bounding on joyous delirium.

For years these thousands of people have waited in vain for word of their relatives imprisoned in their own country.

The Boston American was the first to apprise the new Greek Consul in Boston, Anastassios Antonopoulos, who is replacing Alexis S. Liatis, now first secretary at the Greek embassy in Washington, of Allied military landings in Greece.

In a voice husky with emotion he asked for time to control his joy, then he issued the following statement:

"The long awaited liberation of Greece has started at last! It's hard for me to express my feelings and the feelings of other Greeks in Boston.

"The Greek people who gave everything they had for the cause of freedom and who have suffered untold tortures and miseries at their oppressors' hands, the Fascists, the Nazis and their equals in cruelty-partners, the Bulgarians, will mark this date as another date of national liberation—of equal importance with their Independence Day, the 25th of March, 1821.

"From now on begins the tremendous task of caring for this suffering people and of helping them become self-sufficient.

"My thoughts are now for Athens, whose liberation I feel sure is only a matter of days.

"I had relatives there and friends and it's useless for me to state how anxious I am to find out if they are alive and well. That's an anxiety shared by practically every Greek in this locality."

Tom Pappas, head of Greek War Relief in Boston, nearly broke down when the American was first to inform him of the news of the landings in Greece.

"We'll have a celebration, of course," he said, "but it will be a very quiet one, chiefly of religious thankfulness. We all have sons or brothers or other relatives who are fighting.

"Archbishop Athenagoras will come to Boston to celebrate a special mass at the Greek Cathedral with Bishop Vadas on the Sunday after Athens is liberated. From the cathedral we'll walk down to the Common where the Governor has promised to greet my fellow Greek-Americans and we'll raise the Greek flag with the hope that it may never again be trampled on by Fascists and Nazis."

Girl Dish Breaker Knows About War

Miss Lorna L. Slocombe, blonde spearhead of her own one-woman campaign to muzzle people who demand, "Don't you know there's a war on?," pleaded not guilty in East Cambridge court today to driving home her point by breaking a tea room's dishes.

She was in court at the instigation of the Fiske Tea Room, in Brattle st., Cambridge, which charged she had smashed its crockery to the tune of two or three dollars.

Miss Slocombe, a Lynchburg, Va., minister's daughter and a graduate of Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, admitted she was angry last night when a hostess demanded of her, "Don't you know there's a war on?" But it was pure accident, said Miss Slocombe, that she broke the dishes in her exit.

She asked Judge Louis L. Green for a continuance and the case was set for Oct. 16, the $25 bail which had retrieved her from a Cambridge police cell last night remaining in effect. Police had accepted Miss Slocombe's bank book, containing $37.50, as assurance she would not try to beat the rap by flight.

But even as Miss Slocombe left the courtroom, a conference on crockery was being held at the Fiske tea room. The conferees were Mrs. Howard Fiske, owner; Oscar Killgren of Park st., Somerville, her manager; Abraham Isenstadt, proprietor of the University law book exchange, near Harvard sq., and a policeman who said he was not there officially.

Isenstadt said he was also there unofficially, but he would dearly love it if the matter could be forgotten, and Mrs. Fiske would allow him to pay for the crockery. As a Harvard sq. business man, he stressed, he did not think the publicity was good for Harvard sq.

Manager Killgren demurred. He pointed out a dire possibility, to wit: if it got around that crockery could be broken at will in the Fiske Tea Shop, why, people might make a habit of it.

Mrs. Fiske scoffed gently at the idea. Isenstadt then gave Killgren $2. Mrs. Fiske said if it would be all right with the court and acceptable to Miss Slocombe, she would forget the matter, at least try to forget it.

News of this incident was conveyed to Miss Slocombe at the Lorna Lowry typing service, Holyoke st., Cambridge, which she operates. She said:

"That's grand! That's wonderful! It was awful being arrested and I was very nervous in court. It was humiliating being placed in a police cell. Awful things had been written on the walls. There was a drunken woman in the next cell, stridently shouting to no one in particular, 'Please don't talk about the war.' Miss Slocombe said the heavy hand of the law had fallen upon her shoulder, figuratively, at Massachusetts ave. and Holyoke st. soon after she left the restaurant.

"I admit I was irate in the restaurant at that senseless remark, 'Don't you know there's a war on?'" she said, "but it was startling to be arrested. I had to stand there a long while, it seemed like half an hour, before the cruiser car arrived to get me. But the arresting officer was nice. Indeed, all the police were nice."

Hunt 20 Pupils of 'Fagin' School After Honest John's Confession

The story of a 12-year-old boy that he was taught how to steal by a 69-year-old "Fagin," who paid him good prices for stolen goods, sent police today out to round up some 20 other pupils of the master thief.

Police officials estimated it would take three or four more days to interview the many suspects named by the boy. The youngster's story was corroborated in the police lineup by a gray and baldish Roxbury man of 69 who admitted he conducted a crime school.

The man, held on suspicion of receiving stolen goods, said he was known as Honest John, and confessed he sent out bands of Roxbury boys nightly to steal and plunder, police said.

Detectives said some of his accomplices already have been questioned and have admitted they sought out homes where no one was in. They usually worked in threes, the boys said—two would break a window and sneak inside while a third served as lookout. They said Honest John had coached them in this technique.

The elderly man admitted his "Fagin" complex. "Sure," they called me Honest John," he said, "I paid them good prices. They got $3 for a $50 radio, $2 for a $37.50 watch, 50 cents for good fountain pens, 5 cents each for a deck of good cards."

Ex-War Workers Over 26 Drafted

Draft workers throughout New England, called on for more men than at any time in five months, today were dipping into a big reservoir of men between the ages of 26 and 38, most of them war workers who have left their jobs.

Draft authorities said male war workers, cheered by victories in France, have quit their jobs because few men 30 or over have been drafted during the past five months.

But as each has laid down his tools, his name has been added to the ranks of 1-A.

Clubwomen in State To Buy Bombers

Clubwomen of Massachusetts today launched a campaign to purchase 16 P-47 bombers, costing $88,500 each, and a P-40 marine patrol bomber, costing $113,000, with opening of fall activities here at the YWCA, Clarendon st., Back Bay.

Presiding at the opening session of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs was Mrs. Robert M. Hill, chairman of the club institute forum.

AEE Told of Fight

LONDON, Oct. 5 (INS)—The Stars and Stripes, Army newspaper, today published an account of the Washington fracas between members of the Teamsters' Union and two Navy heroes in a double-column back page story.

The article was headlined: "Fists fly as non-partisan vet like unionists."

4—Boston American, Oct. 5

Operations were practically paralyzed when 800 more welders joined their striking comrades and refused to go to work this morning. The latest walkout brought to 1100 the total on strike.

The 1100 strikers milled around the East Howard st. gate and scorned repeated appeals by company representatives that they return to their jobs.

A company spokesman said the normal number of welders on both day and night shifts totaled only 1900. He said only 100 were at work this morning.

Twenty-five Quincy policemen were on duty outside the plant, but the strikers were peaceful and made no demonstrations.

Officials feared the night shift, due to begin work at 3 p. m., would join the walkout and stop all production in the vast shipyard.

William H. Collins, general manager, denied issuing an ultimatum threatening to fire the welders if they did not go back to work.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that names of all strikers under 38 were being forwarded to draft board for consideration in the October draft quotas.

Trouble started two weeks ago when welders complained readjustments should be made to cover increased cost of living. Union and management representatives met, and the latter announced they could pay no higher wages without War Labor Board approval.

A WLB negotiator visited the plant Tuesday and now is en route to present the case to Washington authorities.

Detroit, Paterson Strikes End

DETROIT, Oct. 5 (AP)—Approximately 8000 maintenance workers whose strike action yesterday tied up or impaired war production in 33 Detroit area plants voted today to return to work on afternoon shifts, according to United Automobile Workers (CIO) spokesmen.

The action was announced following a meeting of officials of the executive board of the UAW-CIO and representatives of local unions making up the maintenance, construction and powerhouse council, UAW-CIO.

The strike, which had begun to spread again this morning, had made more than 50,000 workers idle through plant closings and assembly line stoppages.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 5 (INS)—A five-day strike at the Wright Aeronautical Corp. Wood-Ridge plant which crippled production of engines for Superfortresses ended today.

The men returned to work after the War Labor Board ordered the strike settled and fixed a 15-day "grace period" during which it is expected the grievances will be settled.

HER HANDS ARE FULL—Mrs. Vincent Wilkinson feeds her four-month-old son, Howard, while giving her pupils a spelling lesson in Vermont, Wis. When the board couldn't find a teacher for its 18-pupil school, it begged Mrs. Wilkinson, a farmer's wife, to take the job. She took the post on condition the baby went with her. The child sleeps most of the time in a carriage in the classroom.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5 (AP)—Ens. John W. Benson launched his campaign for election to Congress today with an offer to personally kiss every lady in the Third Congressional District who desires to accept.

Soldier in Death Fall From Hotel

The unclad body of Pfc. Robert Harper Clarkson, 32, Army student at Harvard Medical School, was found lying in the street today on the Huntington ave. side of Irvington chambers, where he had a seventh-floor room.

Police believed Clarkson had jumped or fallen from his window some time around 6 a. m. His body was discovered by another guest who left the hotel at 6:40. First Serice Command officials ordered it removed to Ft. Banks for an examination by Army physicians.

The soldier's home was in Day Shore, L. I.

Finns Push Germans Back, Take 2 Towns

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 5 (AP)—Finnish troops, pushing the Germans back along a line north of the Finnish "waist," have captured Rannu and Sima and approached close to Livjærvi, a Helsinki communique announced today.

REFUSE PROBE FOR 'BATTLE OF STATLER'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (INS)—Outspoken demands for a full investigation of the "Battle of the Statler" went unheeded in official quarters today as Navy Secretary Forrestal and Rep. Carl Vinson (D.) of Georgia, chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, exhibited complete disinterest.

Forrestal brushed aside inquiries about the fracas, saying, "I have not regarded the matter as calling for an investigation by my office."

Vinson also told reporters he planned no investigation.

Several Senators and a group of Congressmen favor an investigation.

Meanwhile, Daniel J. Tobin, whose AFL Teamsters' Union is the storm center of the altercation with two naval officers, branded published versions of the fight as "ridiculous and untrue."

Tobin, who called at the White House with other labor leaders for a conference with President Roosevelt, declared, however, that his union had no intention of making public its version of the fight, during which a young naval officer was said to have "beaten up a personal friend of the President."

Bor's Capture Claimed by Nazis

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Berlin announced today that Gen. Tadeusz Komorowski (Bor), newly appointed commander-in-chief of the Polish army, and his entire staff had been taken prisoners "after the capitulation of Warsaw."

There has been an argument in Allied quarters as to whether Komorowski was in Warsaw during the uprising. Polish spokesmen in Moscow declared he was not in the city, but the Polish government here insisted he was.

Churchill Praises Fight By Warsaw Patriots

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill paid tribute in Commons today to the Patriots of Warsaw, declaring their 63-day uprising would "remain a deathless memory for Poland and for the friends of freedom all over the world."

Girl Killed in Fall Into Elevator Pit

Miss Rose LaFarge, 19, of Highland Park, Roxbury, fell 15 feet from the Walker Building, Boylston st., was killed today when she fell 15 feet in an elevator pit there.

Police said she had brought the elevator down to the first floor and stepped out. The elevator, apparently without her knowledge, ascended again, to the second floor. When she stepped backward into what she thought would be the car, she tumbled to the pit's bottom.

Brothers' Joint Letter Tells Of Reunion on Pacific Isle

The long arm of coincidence has reached out again to make brother meet brother on a coconut-covered South Sea Isle.

These brothers are Joseph D. and Hyman H. Marks, sons of Mrs. Ida Marks of Segal st., Roxbury. They told of the remarkable meeting in a letter received by her today.

And the letter, written by both, tells their story better than anything else can:

"You had better sit down while reading this," wrote Joseph, EM 1c on a carrier, "because while I am writing it Ily is sitting beside me. Yep, I got a letter from him and his P. O. address was this area, so I went looking for him.

"He had just arrived on this island. I couldn't find out where he was and was walking back to my ship when a guy walks up and bingoo—it was my kid brother."

Wrote Hyman: "It was just like I was dreaming and somebody walks up to you and it was your brother you hadn't seen for 11 months—and boy, did he look good!"

115 N. E. Girls Leave To Train as WAVES

A total of 115 New England women, 56 of them from Greater Boston, entrained at South Station today to begin training as WAVES at the U. S. Naval Training School, the Bronx, N. Y.

The group, all sworn in as apprentice seamen, were in charge of Miss Nellie Bachman of Harvard st., Dorchester; Miss Mary Backus of Stevens st., Lowell, and Miss Eleanor Blanchette of Bradford st., Lawrence.

Abp. Cushing's Investiture Nov. 8

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing will officially take over his new duties as head of the Boston archdiocese at ceremonies at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross on Wednesday, Nov. 8, it was disclosed today.

He is expected to move at once to the Lake st. residence formerly occupied by the late William Cardinal O'Connell.

Documents authorizing him to perform his ecclesiastical duties will be presented at the Cathedral ceremony but investment of the pallium, sacred symbol of office, is not to be made at that time.

Announcement of the identity of the prelate who will install the new archbishop is expected within a few days, as well as complete details of the ritual to be used at the ceremony.

Police Hit Stone Wall In Murder Probe

LAWRENCE, Oct. 5—Police here reported today they were "up against a stone wall and getting nowhere fast" in their probe of the murder of Mrs. Yvonne Hamel, 45, war working widow, who was slain in Hancock st., a week ago, to night.

Mrs. Hamel's will, leaving household furnishings of her four-room flat in Mason st. to Jean Baptiste Fournier, a former boarder, was on file in probate court today. Balance of the widow's estate, estimated at $3000, is left to relatives.

Aimee's Tomb to Have Largest Floral Cross

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—When the body of Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson is placed in a marble sarcophagus in Glendale Monday, the tomb will be at the heart of a floral cross which her Angelus Temple followers say is the biggest ever constructed here—250 by 600 feet.

The temple's 50-piece band and a choir will participate in the funeral.

Good Idea, But—

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 5 (AP)—The goat had batted every kid in the neighborhood, so the law was called in. The officer figured the best way to catch the goat was from the rear, so he tiptoed around the corner of the garage. But the goat had had the same idea. The cop now feels sorry for himself in the same place the youngsters did.

FD Gets Plea Of Mothers

Demanding immediate furloughs for all soldiers who have been overseas 2½ years or longer, petitions signed by more than 100 mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of Medford servicemen were en route to President Roosevelt, War Department and other government officials today.

The petitions resulted from a mass meeting the soldiers' relatives held at Medford City Hall with Mayor Walter E. Lawrence.

Admitting they were acting against the advice of their men in service, the women were particularly incensed over the fact 15 Medford boys, members of an engineer battalion, have been in service in the Pacific for 33 months.

"The boys are not complaining, but we are," said Mrs. Elizabeth G. Farnum, president of the Lawrence Light Guard Auxiliary. "They have been obliged to stay in the worst hole on earth. Down in those unbearable jungles they have had to live in foxholes, have had to live on dehydrated food and take medicine daily."

"What kind of men can we expect them to be when they get home if they don't send them soon? They have done their part and are entitled to a rest."

Mrs. Farnum said she was prepared to go "all the way," and Mayor Lawrence assured the women he would go to Washington to confer with War Department officials if their petition did not result in immediate action.

New Witnesses In McGrath Probe

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 5—New witnesses were called today before the Plymouth County grand jury now hearing evidence in the slaying of 10-year-old Frances McGrath.

Thus far, Dr. Norbet Lough of Rockland, who performed an autopsy after the child's body was found in Norwell, has been heard.

Jury Gets Firing Over $1 Pol Gift

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—District Attorney Edward J. Neary of Nassau County said today he had obtained "complete and absolute" confirmation of 22-year-old Frances Guzzo's story that she lost her job in a coat shop because she refused to contribute $1 to a union-sponsored campaign fund for re-election of President Roosevelt.

The AFL International Ladies Garment Workers Union has denied the young woman's charge. Neary said he would present the matter to a grand jury "as evidence of violation of the elective franchise provisions of the penal law," a misdemeanor.

Rains to Bog War in Europe

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Autumn rains are increasing difficulties confronting all Allied men on the western front, the eastern front, and in Italy—and the first real snows are not far away.

Along the northern flank in France and the Low Countries, where the mud of Flanders still is a byword 27 years after the First World War, rains turn the land into quagmires.

Allied armies in Italy can expect heavy snows in a month. On the eastern front the Russians can expect the Polish plains to turn into a bog in short order. Hard frosts normally come in December.

Intermittent snow, rain and thaws continue six weeks on the northern end of the Russian front before the ground hardens sufficiently for large-scale operations.

MARRIED in a hurried ceremony that saw Lynn police aiding in getting a waiver of the five-day law, Gale M. Aldrich, member of Merchant Marine, and his bride, the former Hazel Neville, a WAC corporal, were honeymooning today. Sweethearts since childhood, both are from Wellington, Kan.

Dewey, "The FDR Victory Band Wagon," can "roll" in Symphony Hall tomorrow night free of interference from municipal officials provided the revue is "decent." City Censor John J. Spencer declared today.

With Democratic and labor spokesmen warily shying from any connection with the satire, Spencer tossed responsibility for the show's decency into the laps of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Inc., owners of the hall.

"My duties are concerned only with morals," Spencer said, after revealing he had heard of a growing protest against the show.

"It is the duty of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Inc., holder of the entertainment license for the hall, to see that only proper shows are staged there."

"I'll be there at the opening and if there is any obscenity I'll order changes at the next performance."

The "Bandwagon" will be in Boston for only one performance. Concerning the intermission speech from Earl Browder, leader of the Communist Political Ass'n, Spencer said the Red leader "has as much right to speak in any hall in Boston as anyone else."

The Boston showing, under the sponsorship of pro-Roosevelt groups, will be the first of 20 performances throughout the country before election day.

ARE YOU GOOD AT FIGURES?

No matter what kind of a bargain is offered to any one of our 24 buyers, first of all they have to figure HOW LOW can we make the price. You see our resourful automatic plan is based on figures, nothing complicated or the least bit perplexing, but simple solid old fashioned fractional arithmetic. First prices must be low or automatically they are raised. In 30 selling days is 12, 18 or 24 selling days—then whatever remains after 30 selling days is distributed to charitable institutions. With this plan it's easy to figure why everything sold here is a bargain and that explains, numerically speaking, why about 12,000,000 bargains, seventh, eighth, and lots, discounted stocks will here annually all the way from soap at 3¢ to thousand dollar fur coats.

"I know there is a war on. I have given seven pints of my blood and I am suffering from malnutrition right now."

"I ordered fried scallops, beets and escalloped potatoes. Then the waitress returned to tell me the escalloped potatoes were all out and that I would have to take mashed potatoes."

"There was squash on the menu and I like squash. I asked if I could have squash."

"But then the waitress asked me if I didn't know there was a war on. I told her I did and then the waitress came over with a menu on which was printed 'No Substitutions on Dinners.'"

"I was so annoyed I flit in a huff. As I picked up my pocket-book four dishes on the tray accidentally were knocked to the floor. I offered to pay for them and tendered one dollar. That's all they were worth. But they wanted $2.50 and I walked right out on them."

"But the manager followed me and called a policeman. He didn't want to take me with him, but the manager insisted and I was taken to the police station to sit in a cell until I gave $25 bail."

"I really was more disgusted than angry. I know there is a war going on. My nearest relative was killed on Guadalcanal and the man I am going to marry has been away nearly three years in the Pacific. He is Henry Chaikos, 30, of Plainville, Ct."

Probe Death Of Tiny Girl

The Boston Housing Authority today launched a thorough investigation into the death of two-year-old Anne Frances Mahan, who died in the aftermath of fumigation of her home, the Boston Housing Authority project at Polk and Medford sts., Charlestown.

Medical Examiner William J. Brickley has given the cause of death as unsuspected pneumonia and glandular trouble, but today was to conduct further chemical tests to determine whether or not fumes from a fumigating gas was a contributing cause. Six other persons were made ill by the fumes.

Officials of the Boston Housing Authority said a reputable firm did the work and has conducted similar fumigation of housing projects here for six years without harmful results. Another statement is expected as soon as the probe is finished.

Stricken ill and taken to City Hospital were Anne's mother, Mrs. Rita Mahan, wife of a soldier; her twins, Rita and Gerard, Jr., 6; their brother, James Joseph, 8 months old; Mrs. Mary Getz, 24, and Mrs. Margaret O'Brien.

Several other persons were reported under treatment by personal physicians today while Red Cross authorities attempted to contact the dead baby's father, PERC Gerard Mahan, of Ft. McClellan, Ala., and fly him home.

Giving this shop a name was no cinch, really. Trying to encompass in one short word all the dash, flash and cash this store would, I hoped, eventually represent, had me and my bride of three months (this is 1933) groping for weeks. I insisted it be a short name because the "Harvardashy" was still fresh in my memory and I had no desire to repeat my experiences with the "Harvard Crimson" where it was necessary to buy half a page every time I wanted to say hello to the incoming freshmen. It was obvious I couldn't use my full name even though my parents loved it. Zarah Garabed Thomejan, while wonderful when sung to the accompaniment of a mandolin, was hardly the approach to a successful seduction of strangers in search of a shirt. I thought of calling ourselves the Kasanjian Company (my maternal name) but I gave that up because I didn't want my illustrious uncle to think I was trying to trade on his reputation. Not that the good doctor ever would but I was young and poor and you know how it is. Some of my friends ever mindful of my proclivities suggested Clipp Ltd. but somehow or other I couldn't warm up to that either. I have always felt that there's a bit of the Lief Erickson in all of us in the sense that most people prefer discovering things for themselves rather than being told outright. Well, you know the end of this story, "we" decided on Zarah (pronounced Zera with both a's as soft as a sigh) and, as Dillinger once put it, the rest is history.

The second installment of my memoirs entitled "Marihuana and Why I Never Smoke It" will follow at an early date. For further details please consult your neighborhood grocer.

Bricker Advocates White House Limit

OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. Bricker declared today that the political power of the presidency has become so great the tenure should be limited in order to develop leadership for the republic.

The Republican Vice-presidential nominee said President Roosevelt, "by his tactics of subterfuge," had kept out of the running all other possible candidates in the Democratic party.

"He had such a hold on the Democratic party through patronage they did not dare get rid of him," Bricker added in a prepared text released by his campaign staff.

The Ohio Governor's special train was due here in the midst of a one-day tour of Iowa in which nine speeches were scheduled, topped by an engagement in Rock Island, Ill., tonight.

Last night Bricker spoke at St. Louis in a bid for the 15 electoral votes of Missouri, home of his Democratic rival, Sen. Truman. There he appealed for a "sincere, straightforward and truthful" campaign, devoid of "cynicism, innuendo, flippant remarks and synthetic humor."

Describing a limit on the President's tenure as fundamental to the preservation of self-government, Bricker said in his speech prepared for an Ottumwa audience:

"The political power of the Presidency has become so great that a constitutional provision limiting the term of the President is necessary to develop the leadership essential in a republic."

"Long tenure imposes narrow partisan government on the people and destroys new leadership which is the mainspring of progress."

The vice-presidential aspirant asserted that President Roosevelt and his intimates had "played the game of power politics with the most important office within the gift of the American people."

He remarked further: "When the power of one man becomes so great through patronage and public money that he can impose himself on his party, it is a serious, yes, a dangerous threat to human freedom."

Hitting at advocates of a fourth term, he said 16 years as the nation's chief executive would be a reign; that half of Great Britain's monarchs had served less than 16 years.

In his St. Louis speech Bricker asserted that the New Deal had risen to power by granting special favors to special groups; by setting class against class and by playing minority groups for their political support.

Prior to the political meeting, held in Kiel Auditorium, where 3500 seats were virtually filled, the Ohio Governor saw the opening game of the World Series between the Cardinals and Browns.

Women Seek Big Dewey Vote

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—A "Double the Vote for Dewey Day" will be observed Oct. 25, sponsored by the women's division of the Republican National Committee.

As an announcement said 5,000,000 women workers would seek "an extra vote" for the Dewey-Bricker presidential ticket.

F. D. on Radio At 10 Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt will go on the air tonight for his second campaign speech, directed to Democratic party workers throughout the nation.

Mr. Roosevelt formally opened his fourth term drive Sept. 23 in an address attacking Republicans for spreading "falsehoods" and declaring they should not be permitted to "botch" the peace again as he said they did after the last war.

There has been no indication of the theme of the address tonight, a 20-minute talk scheduled for 10 p. m. (Eastern War Time) over CBS and Mutual.

Dewey to Appear Twice in N. Y. City

By JACK BELL

ALBANY, Oct. 5 (AP)—New York city voters will get their first real look at Thomas E. Dewey as the Republican Presidential candidate next week if the governor carries out tentative plans to make two appearances there, on Sunday and Thursday.

Dewey plans to leave Charleston, W. Va., immediately after his Saturday night speech, reaching New York city Sunday in time for the annual Pulaski Day parade of the city's Polish-American population, a march that usually finds 50,000 persons in line. He is expected to be in the reviewing stand.

Returning to Albany, the Governor now plans to go back to register and to view the annual Columbus Day parade involving a large turnout of New York city's Italian population.

Although Paul Lockwood, the Governor's secretary, said definite arrangements had not been made, Dewey may address the Columbus Day marchers, as he has in the past.

The Republican National Committee announced Gov. Dewey would make a speech at the Minneapolis Municipal Auditorium on Oct. 24 and that it would be broadcast over the NBC network from 10:30 to 11 p. m. The following night, Oct. 25, he will make an address in the Chicago Stadium which will be carried by CBS from 10 to 10:30 p. m.

New York's 47 electoral votes loom large in the calculations of both parties, and there has been much speculation here that both President Roosevelt and Gov. Dewey could be expected to find a place on their war-abbreviated schedules for a major campaign speech in the state.

Navy to Honor All Boston Churches 'Recognition Day'

The Navy will honor Boston churches next Sunday with special ceremonies expressing formal appreciation for their contribution of clergymen to serve as chaplains on ships or shore.

The day has been designated as "Recognition Day" by R. Adm. R. A. Theobald, commandant of the First Naval District, and three separate presentations will be enacted within Boston.

Archbishop-elect Richard J. Cushing will receive various certificates for the Catholic churches of the Boston diocese at an outdoor ceremony at 9:30 in the morning on the steps of St. Leonard's Church, North End.

Rev. Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt of the Harvard Congregational Church, Brookline, representing all Massachusetts Protestant churches, will receive similar awards at a ceremony on the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral, Tremont st., at 9:45.

The third ceremony will be at Temple Ohabei Shalom, Beacon st., Brookline, at 10:30 when Ben Horvitz, vice-president of Temple Beth El, Fall River, will receive a certificate in recognition of the Navy services rendered by his Synagogue's Rabbi S. S. Ruderman, only Jewish chaplain in the current First Naval District list.

Accompanying each certificate for each church is a letter from Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal expressing gratitude for having contributed spiritual leaders to the Navy.

N. E. Jewelry Makers See Postwar Boom

New England's 131-year-old jewelry industry, which has turned 70 per cent of its productive capacity since the war to the manufacture of vital war items, expects to double its present employment and production after the war, E. O. Otis, executive secretary of the New England Mfg. Jewelers' and Silversmiths' Ass'n, said today. In an article prepared in the New England Council war bulletin, Otis based his attitude on the results of surveys.

Typhus Peril Increasing In Europe, Expert Warns

A Waban doctor, internationally known as an authority on epidemics, warned Allied military leaders today there is an increasing possibility of an outbreak of typhus in the European theater of operations.

Col. John E. Green, chief of the Army's division of preventive medicine, on leave from his faculty post at Harvard medical school, said a wave of typhus already has spread far beyond its usual limits in Poland, Russia and the Balkans. Last year, he said, the disease was rampant in Germany and Normandy.

A native of Chicago, Dr. Gordon joined the Harvard staff in 1941 after spending many years as field representative for the International Red Cross in Romania and other Balkan states. His wife, son and daughter live in Quindic rd., Waban.

"We may well anticipate another outbreak," the Colonel added, "and it is our business to see to it that it doesn't happen. An extensive delousing program is under way, and new methods of attacking the vermin carrying the disease have been developed."

Col. Gordon also is apprehensive over a serious outbreak of influenza which he described as an unpredictable disease.

Pontifical Mass For Al Smith

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The body of Alfred E. Smith will lie in state at St. Patrick's Cathedral from 2 p. m. tomorrow until funeral services at 11 a. m. Saturday.

The 70-year-old "happy warrior," four times governor of New York state and Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, who died yesterday of lung congestion and acute heart disease, will be buried in the family plot at Queens Calvary cemetery.

Most Rev. J. Francis A. McIntyre, auxiliary bishop of New York, administered the last rites of the Catholic church to former Gov. Smith and will celebrate the solemn pontifical mass of requiem.

Services will be simple in keeping with Mr. Smith's wishes, the family said. There will be no honorary pallbearers. The family requested no flowers be sent.

The 69th regiment, New York Guard, and the Catholic War Veterans will form a guard of honor at the cathedral. The coffin will not be opened.

Whole Blood Flown From U. S.

PARIS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Whole blood being flown from the United States to meet increasing battlefront needs has been used to save lives of American soldiers in the Siegfried line only four days after it was contributed in the States.

Maj.-Gen. Paul R. Hanley, chief surgeon of U. S. forces in Europe, in disclosing increased demands for whole blood, said it was superior to plasma for immediate treatment of badly wounded soldiers.

The Army began flying whole blood from the United States in August and now 60 per cent comes from there, said Maj. Robert C. Hardin of University Hospital, Iowa City, senior consultant in blood transfusions in the European theater.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights, frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, swelling, puffiness around the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deon's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Deon's Pills.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY
I have been discharged from the Army. How long am I entitled to the protection offered under the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act?—E. M. M. Quincy.

In general, the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act protects servicemen and women up to six months after their discharge.

What does the $300 per year allowance to education under the GI Bill for veterans' education pay for?—S. P. J. Norwood.

It pays for the customary cost of tuition, laboratory, library, infirmary and similar payments as are customarily charged, and may pay for books, supplies, equipment and such other necessary expenses (exclusive of board, lodging and other living expenses and travel) as are required.

I'm a veteran and my commercial life insurance has been taken care of during my service by the Veterans Administration. How long will the Veterans Administration continue to handle it?—R. J. M. Waltham.

Payment must be brought up to date with interest within two years after your discharge.

Does the family of a veteran continue to draw the veteran's pension after his death?—A. A. B. Allston.

No. However, if the veteran's disability was service connected, the dependent may file a claim for a pension with the Veterans Administration.

Is overseas duty calculated from the time a soldier leaves the States or after he has arrived?—M. A. L. Lynn.

Overseas service is calculated from the date of departure to the date of return, both dates are inclusive.

How does a soldier who is over 38 stand in the new demobilization bill?—O. M. Saugus.

The point system of demobilization has not yet been officially adopted; hence, we cannot answer your question.

My husband and I were divorced seven months before he enlisted in the Army and there was no court order at the time. Am I eligible for an allotment?—P. H. S. Medford.

No, you are not, because your divorce does not state any amount is payable to you.

Under present regulations.

Selective Service is not drafting men who are over 37 years of age. Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend, Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

Don't Wait Too Late To Send Buddy Gift

The deadline for mailing Christmas packages overseas is only 10 days away!

Enroll immediately in the Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas campaign, sponsored by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, to assure every fighting man, whether on land, in the air or on the sea, a really merry Christmas.

Names of soldiers, sailors, marines and merchant seamen are still available for generous, patriotic citizens who want to join in this noble drive to send a little bit of home to our overseas fighting men.

You must hurry or some lad will face a dreary Christmas in a distant, foreign land.

Postmaster Patrick J. Connelly of Boston warned today that packages must be mailed by midnight Oct. 14, because the announced deadline—Oct. 15—is Sunday.

However, post offices in most large New England cities will be open Oct. 15, Sunday, to receive the gifts.

But don't wait until the last minute. Enroll today and send your gift on its way immediately.

As to gifts, the Army and Navy know what they want, and the services have compiled a list of presents which will be most welcome. Keep in mind that a soldier has to carry everything he owns with him, and his gifts should be light, small objects easily transported and packed.

Fountain pens, wrist watches, mechanical pencils with leads, GI jewelry and leather goods, windproof cigarette lighters, pipes and smoking tobacco, GI sewing, shaving and toilet kits, are always welcome. So are game sets, playing cards, poker chips, stationery, metal mirrors, razors and razor blades and pocket knives. In the case of all sharp instruments, be sure they are carefully packed so that both point and blade will be well protected.

Books and magazine subscriptions are appreciated, as are clothes brushes, fishing line and bait spinners, harmonicas and all kinds of toilet articles. Do not send perishable food, intoxicants, inflammables or anything breakable.

Most department stores, chain stores and gift shops have special sections featuring the gifts servicemen like most. You will get many ideas from visiting these departments. Many food stores feature special boxes of acceptable delicacies packed according to regulations.

Petrillo to Consider F.D. Records Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt's request that the American Federation of Musicians (AFL) lift its ban on making records for commercial use is to be considered Oct. 9 in Chicago by the union's international executive board.

James C. Petrillo, the union's president, said he informed Mr. Roosevelt by telegram yesterday he had called the board meeting "at which time your request will be given careful consideration."

A black and white illustration depicting a military scene. In the foreground, a soldier wearing a helmet and combat uniform is crouching low to the ground, aiming a rifle towards the left. He has a backpack and a satchel. To his left, two other soldiers are running towards him. The soldier in the lead is also in full combat gear, including a helmet and a satchel. The background shows a flat, open field with some distant trees and a horizon line. In the bottom left corner, there is a sign that reads "DANGER MINE FIELD".

My Day

WASHINGTON, Wednesday—I have spent the entire morning at a session of the conference on rural education, which is being held here in the White House, and I am afraid that as these sessions take place both morning and afternoon, my column will have to deal largely with this subject.

Two outstanding speeches were made this morning, one by Howard A. Dawson, director of rural service, National Education Ass'n, and one by Murray A. Lincoln, president of the Co-operative League of the United States, and executive secretary, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

THE PROBLEMS of rural education are, of course, many. One basic point is the fact that 43 per cent of our children live and are educated in rural areas, while the income in those areas is usually lower than in urban areas.

There are still 108,000 one-room schools in this country, and 25,000 two-room schools. Teachers in these schools should be far better trained, and therefore receive higher salaries, than teachers in city areas, because they teach a variety of ages and subjects. Instead, they are usually poorly paid, and so have less training.

The average teacher's salary in places where the population is more than 2500 is approximately $1900 a year. The average for rural schools throughout the country is under $1000 a year.

The war situation has closed many rural schools, because teachers are unavailable. In addition, the number of teachers now being trained is greatly reduced.

THE ORGANIZATION of school administration throughout the nation, moreover, should be changed, and many state laws which at present put a premium on poor organization should be altered.

20—Boston American, Oct. 5

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

For instance, in some places the school districts are poor, and therefore get state aid. If several poor districts consolidate, however, they are rated differently and get less state aid. As a result, there is no incentive to consolidate and get better teachers and a better school.

I think one important point was made by the editor of one of the farm papers. He said: "If what is being said at this conference could go out to farm communities, in understandable language, in their own papers, it would be more effective than all the pamphlets sent out by educational groups, or those many articles in metropolitan papers."

They're Dangerous Curves

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE most dangerous curves ahead for ladies with far-flung hips are the curves that fall fashions concentrate around this line. There are a good many dresses with hiplines to them which ought to be marked "poison" for the woman whose own hip line is on the generous side.

There are dresses with draped lines right there, and this drapery is bound to make any hipline seem more so. There are dresses with bows and peplums set at this strategic point, drawing the attention of everybody to it. They are for the slim in hip only.

You with generous hiplines can wear peplumed dresses, but the peplums you choose should be long enough to extend from your waistline to your thighs, and they really ought not to be gathered. Skirts with the fullness concentrated at the front or the back—and there are many—are good for your hipline. So is the simple, graceful skirt with no special fullness, but not super-slim.

Make-up Must

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

BREAD AND BUTTER. Salt and pepper. Ermine and diamonds. Love and beauty. Well... perfume and make-up. What's closer? What's more natural than that makers of famous perfumes for 20 years should say: "Who knows more about glamour and fascination; and, indeed how men want their sweet ones to look, than we? We'll take the next logical step... and step into beauty."

And, step they did... right smack into it... with rouge, powder, eyeshadow, mascara and foundations. Of course, they've always supplied the choosy elites with knockout scents and lipsticks. But, now you and I have a chance to look like a duchess... for appropriately enough the glamour sequence is named the Duchess of York... designed to put that regal glint in your eyes... and that noble lusciousness in your face.

Now after months of work and research to perfect texture and exquisite quality... the beauty wherewithal... sponsored by this outstanding perfume house for the very first time... has been brought to the city for the first time for your personal beautification. Each item of the complete make-up deftly echoes the tone of the other... each enhances the loveliness of natural skin tones.

TOPS IN FOUNDATION

But it is with the foundation that today's discourse is especially concerned... since once you have that... the rest, like building a house, follows in natural order and beauty. This foundation is of two types... an innovation extremely acceptable. If your skin is average or slightly oily... you'll want the liquid foundation in the hand-ome off-white scepter bottle.

But, if your skin is dry... as whose isn't these brisk days... the little off-white china jar... holding gobs of precious creamy coloring to protect as well as smooth your skin into charming color softness... is your best bet. You can get it in five shades. And, it will glide over your countenance... like whipped cream over hot gingerbread... melting into the facial tissues to enliven it with a vibrant radiance.

For the name of this new duchess foundation, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Or if you have any other problems, we'll be glad to help.

Fashion

A STRAIGHT TUXEDO coat... done in chocolate brown wool with a sealskin vest sewn inside... and a skirt to match the coat... is Fira Benenson's contribution to the 1944 fall fashion scene... accentuating the slimmer than slim silhouette. A feather trimmed sealskin bonnet... a jaunty affair for the chignonned head... is another provocation to which fur will be put this season.—R. M.

SPAGHETTI WITH RICH beef sauce is a No. 1 way to use abundant lean non-rathered beef. Together with beef and kidney pie, broiled Mexican steak, beef pot roast and beef and vegetable stew, this dish will highlight many fall and winter meals.

While braising and stewing are the best cooking methods for pieces of lean beef, broiling and baking are delicious for ground beef. Variations in braised and stewed dishes are made by using such liquids as canned soups, French dressing, chili sauce, canned fruit or vegetable juices, or sour cream. For more flavor, use herbs and seasonings: sweet marjoram for hash, meat pies and casseroles; sweet basil and thyme for beef sauces, and summer savory for beef patties.

MEAT AND SPAGHETTI SUPPER

- 1 onion, chopped
- 2 tbsp. lard or drippings
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. chili powder
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1 pkg. spaghetti

Lightly brown onion in hot fat. Add ground beef and cook slowly until well browned, stirring frequently. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Pour meat sauce over hot cooked spaghetti. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese.

BROILED BEEF PATTIES WITH BACON

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 3 tbsp. grated onion
 - 6 slices bacon
- Combine ground beef and seasonings. Shape into patties. Wrap each patty with a slice of bacon. Pre-heat the broiler, arrange patties on broiler rack, allowing three inches between the surface of the meat and the heat. When brown, turn and finish broiling. Only one turning is required.

STUFFED MEAT ROLLS

- 1 lb. ground beef
- Pepper
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tbsp. chopped onion
- 1 cup water
- 2 tbsp. chopped onion
- 1 tsp. bacon fat
- 1/4 cup fine, dry bread crumbs
- 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce

Mix thoroughly meat, seasonings, 1 tablespoon onion and water. Divide meat in 6 individual portions and shape each in a square. For the stuffing cook 2 tablespoons onion in fat until soft and yellow. Add bread crumbs and season. Place a spoonful of stuffing on each meat square. Roll and seal ends. Brown in small amount of fat. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Pour white sauce over meat and bake in 325 deg. F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED DINNER

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
- 1 cup grated onion
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 cups sliced raw potatoes
- 1 can corn
- 1 can peas
- 1 can tomatoes

Combine ground beef, onion and seasonings. Shape into small patties. Arrange a layer of potatoes in a greased baking dish. Season with salt and pepper. Add the corn and peas. Place the patties over the vegetables. Pour tomatoes over all. Cover and bake in a slow oven (200 deg. F.) for 1 1/2 hours.

BRAISED BEEF AND POTATO PATTIES

- 1 lb. ground beef
 - 1 cup grated raw potato
 - 1/2 cup grated onion
 - 1 1/2 tsp salt
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - Drippings or other fat
- Combine all ingredients and mix well. Shape into patties. Brown on both sides in lard or drippings. Cover closely and cook slowly for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Though the romantic news has just been formally announced by Mr. and Mrs. Baylies, Beatrice has been unofficially engaged since before she went overseas to Nicholas V. ALL NATURE PREPARES FOR WINTER - HOW ABOUT YOU ?

In preparation for his long winter nap, nature provides the whimsical BEAR with the best "grease job" imaginable . . . a deep, warm layer of fat which keeps his "motor" ticking smoothly till spring.

THE BLACK BEAR TELLS YOU ITS TIME FOR WINTER CAR PROTECTION

Bears "hole up" for the winter. Their problem is simple. A hollow tree trunk . . . a convenient cave and they never roll out till spring.

You can't do that. Neither can your car. It has to roll out every day and take you places, no matter how tough the going.

That's why your car deserves a thorough check-up right now! Remember, this is the 4th War Winter it will be serving you. Why not ask your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer to look it over? He has tools to test and adjust it. He has factory-engineered and inspected parts. And his experienced mechanics know what to look for, how to correct little troubles before they become serious and costly.

Protect your car against freezing weather. Phone now for an appointment ahead of the last minute rush. Get your dealer's advice on what should be done. He knows best!

Things your car needs this 4th War Winter

Your Engine needs tuning for cold weather driving, for easy starting, to avoid stalling, and to compensate for low octane wartime gas. It needs lighter oil, too.

Your Electrical System Battery should be tested and recharged if necessary for cold weather starting. Also clean and tighten cable connections.

Your Cooling System needs flushing. All hose connections should be checked to prevent leaks. Replace hose if necessary. Add anti-freeze.

Your Braking System Adjust brakes so they function equally—for safety, and to save on tire wear. Retire if necessary. Check stop light operation.

See Cotton, Rayon Shortage Until After Jap Surrender

Russell T. Fisher, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, declared today that shortages of cottons and rayons for civilian consumers will continue until after Japan is defeated.

Fisher told the association's annual meeting at the Copley Plaza that the War Department has indicated an over-all increase in military requirements of cotton textiles and rayons when Germany surrenders and a full offensive is unleashed against Japan.

The Navy also, Fisher declared, is preparing to step up its purchases of textiles as more and more ships are commissioned or reconditioned and sent to the Pacific.

"Fabrics made from rayon and other synthetic fibers will evidently find more military uses," Fisher said. "As an illustration, a new nylon uniform for tropical use has been developed at the climatic research laboratory."

"Until Japan is defeated, the industry will be called upon to continue supplying an over-all quantity of military goods approaching the volume of the past two years."

If New England mills are to prosper after the war, he declared, competitive labor costs must be established.

"The wage differential of approximately 20 per cent against our mills must be substantially reduced," he said.

Fisher, referring to a union petition for further wage increases now before the War Labor Board, said, "Unless this is denied, the competitive wage situation will become even more of a handicap." The OPA, he charged, has allowed price increases for textiles to lag seriously behind increases in costs of materials and labors.

Boston police officials have a little mystery of their own to solve today and it involves the efforts of bluecoats to obtain a salary increase.

Some soft-stepping person eluded police headquarters watchmen and guards during the night to insert pamphlets discussing the pay raises in mail boxes used for distribution of official mail to division stations.

All concerned in the building disclaimed any knowledge of how the pamphlets got into the boxes.

The pamphlets were not distributed.

JVA Speeds Milkweed Drive

The Junior Victory Army's milkweed harvest campaign got an added boost yesterday when Henry W. Wendler, supervisor of gardening in the Boston schools, revealed that picked stems of Boston school children are being rushed into the field to help finish the harvest.

"The jobs these boys and girls are doing is one of the most important war services imaginable," Wendler said, pointing out that the wild milkweed crop is America's only source of buoyant fillings for servicemen's life belts and flares' jackets.

Districts in which the most milkweed was found are Dorchester, Roxbury and Roslindale. Recently for, Mattapan, Hyde Park, West some late crops of "the weed that

Maria Montez, Jon Hall In Keith Memorial Romp

By PEGGY DOYLE

Headline hunters Maria Montez and Jon Hall continue their daredevil screen romancing for Universal, this time in a technicolorful Shangri-La that might be Ruritania or Graustark.

Their latest romp on celluloid is titled "Gypsy Wildcat," and is now unrolling on Keith Memorial screens.

Maria Montez, a swashbuckling siren on screen, when discussing "the take" with the exhibitors or wherever she is, goes through her customary paces in the title role, a sulphureous gypsy dancer. She is one of a band of gypsies imprisoned in the danger of "Baron" Douglass Dumbrell's mouldering castle which is possessed of all the medieval improvements.

The venal Baron charges the gypsies with the murder of the castle's owner, the Count Orso, whose wife and infant daughter were supposedly lost in a shipwreck years before. It is the Baron's own men who, at the command of their lord and master, have erased the nobleman to provide the former with the latter's vast land holdings.

An itinerant adventurer, Jon Hall, a vitamin-missing, latter-day exponent of the old Douglas Fairbanks windmill-tilting technique, has seen the deed committed, fallen smack in love on sight of the Montez and is determined to clear the gypsies.

Of course, all this is just an excuse to prove that nobody is ever guilty of the "there's-a-war-on-you-know" reaction in Ruritania and that rationing is merely a 20th century rumor. And so before the happy-ever-after finale for Montez and Hall, who turn out to be the murdered count's long-lost daughter, a messenger from the king, all the old hocus-focus of countless knights on horseback dashing pell-mell around precarious mountain ledges and engaging in some fatal pinkings as their blades flash of made-in-Hollywood sunlight proves to you that love ain't what it used to be when the be-plumed brotherhood was in flower.

Montez is... well, Montez, and nevermore so than in that now-you-see-me-now-you-don't frilly black nightgown. Hall, no doubt with the aid of a durable double, demonstrates for the credulous how to play leap-frog on a grand scale without turning a hair. Peter Coe, whom Montez has described as "a combination Charles Boyer and Laurence Olivier," has more hair than the one and less lure than the other but can go forth on his own good looks and acting skill.

TALENTED TEEN-AGERS
Shirley, Temple and Jennifer Jones turn in notable performances in David O. Selznick's boxoffice smash hit, "Since You Went Away," the appealing home-front film drama that is breaking records throughout the country. It is remaining a third week on Loew's State and Orpheum screens.

Women Asked to Buy Extra Million in Bonds

Women of Massachusetts are expected to buy an extra $1,000,000 worth of E bonds during the Sixth War Loan under a plan to be launched next Monday by the women's division of the War Finance Committee.

The plan is known as the pin money bond campaign, in which housewives are asked to begin saving now for that extra bond.

Discarded Red Sox Are Stars of Series

By JACK CONWAY

WITH THE AID of discarded Red Sox players, Luke Sewell's St. Louis Browns proved they are in the World's Series battle all of the way. It was Denny Galehouse, former Sox pitcher, who gave the American League champions the edge.

While he yielded seven hits, Galehouse was particularly effective in tight spots in the ball game and squeezed out a 2 to 1 win on two hits by his teammates. One of these blows, however, was a circuit smash by George McQuinn and that hit decided the opening game of the series.

Denny Galehouse and Nelson Potter, another Red Sox discard who was a Browns standout this season, was due to start against the Cards today.

It is interesting the way these ex-Red Sox players come to life when they get away from Boston. The men of Yawkey could have won the American League pennant this year if they had the services of some of the players they let go.

Red Sox castoffs helped the Browns in their pennant drive and they may now be instrumental in causing the downfall of the Cardinals.

"The Browns are a very difficult team to beat when playing in St. Louis and there is not any reason to believe they will be a soft touch for the Cardinals," Pete Reilly, who played baseball before he managed boxers, told me before the opening game of the series.

As all of the World Series games will be played in St. Louis, the Browns should show at their best.

It will be argued that the Browns were lucky to win on two hits. Teams that win championships always get the breaks, and they also have a habit of stopping the surges of their opponents when men are on the bases.

It looks as if the Browns have shot real life into the series. The short ends on 2 to 1 betting before the opening of the series, have served notice on the Cardinals as well as baseball in general that they are in the series fight to the finish and that they are confident they will win.

$15,000 To Show

A LADY walked up to the $100 window at Rockingham Park.

"One hundred tickets on No. 3 to show," said the lady as she passed $10,000 through the window to the clerk.

The clerk counted the money,

and then punched out the tickets.

No. 3 horse was Texas Sandman owned by Donna Ray Stable, trained by C. F. Wagner and scheduled to be ridden by Jockey

F. Weidman. The price on the "tote" board at the time was 1 to 5 on Texas Sandman.

A few minutes later the same

lady returned to the mutuel window.

"Fifty tickets on No. 3 to show," she said.

The clerk counted the $5000 and punched out the tickets.

The lady then had $15,000 to show on the odds on favorite.

Texas Sandman broke slowly, picked up speed, raced around horses and won to pay $240,

$240, $220 across the board.

The lady received $16,500 for her winning tickets. A quick 10 per cent profit.

The previous day the same lady wagered $15,000 on First Draft and Exit. There was $10,000 on Exit to show, $2,000 on First Draft to place and $3,000 on First Draft to show.

The heavy show betting resulted in minus pools, but that is a risk race tracks must take. The State does not share in minus pools. Under racing laws, the Racing Ass'n must take all of the risk.

The big show better has been backing the solid horses. A $220 show payoff is the highest that can be expected in most cases.

There was $87,115 wagered on the Texas Sandman race. Of this sum $24,951 was bet on Texas Sandman to win, $10,143 on the horse to place and $26,189 on the thoroughbred to show.

Yanks Battle Giants

There is considerable interest in the Sunday afternoon professional football clash between the Yanks and the Giants. While the Yanks lost in their opening game of the season here against the Eagles, they showed plenty of possibilities. I look for them to play an improved game against the Giants.

The Giants have always had first class clubs and they should give the crowd an exhibition of top football.

Browns Baffle Cards

By JOE CASHMAN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—The Brownies' strategy for winning this World's Series, it is rumored, calls for them to beat the Cardinals on one hit today, on no hits tomorrow and without getting a runner to first base on Saturday.

Don't ask how the Brownies can execute the Saturday trick. The Brownies can do anything.

At least that's what St. Louis, in general, and the Cardinals in particular, are beginning to think after watching Luke Sewell's sensational capture the series opener, 2-1, despite being held to two hits.

The Red Birds, perennial National League champions, would have you believe that it will be a different story today. They opine that their Max "Lefty" Lanier will beat Brownie Nelson Potter, where their right-handed ace, Mort Cooper, failed in the inaugural against Denny Galehouse when George McQuinn hit a two-run homer.

But you wonder if the Southworth charges really believe it themselves.

They point out that it's an old Cardinal customer to lose opening games in the fall classic. That's true in eight they've been in, they've captured the lid-lifter only once.

They further point out that they almost invariably win the second games of these money series.

True again. They've dropped only two such.

But in other years the Cards were playing the Yankees, Athletics and Tigers. Those were standard bearers in last year's World Series, found that out in dropping four straight here at the tag end of last week.

The Cards, National League representatives in the '43 series, found that out yesterday.

The Yanks, in one of those last week games, were furnished two-hit pitching by "Hank" Borowy and they made six hits off the aforementioned Neils Potter, but the Brownies won, 1-0.

Cooper and Blix Donnelly, setting six batters down in order in a two-inning stunt, combined to hold the American Leaguers to two hits yesterday, while the Cards were collecting seven, along

Galehouse's Control Superb

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP)—When you diagnose Denny Galehouse's brilliant 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, don't overlook the St. Louis Browns' 32-year-old right-hander's marvelous display of control.

Despite the four passes issued by the former defense worker, Galehouse pitched only 123 balls, a very low total.

Only 23 were called balls, while 53 were strikes, including 23 fouls. Of the remaining 30, seven were hit safely and 23 hit for outs.

Except for his four passes, one of which was intentional, at no time did Galehouse have three balls on any batter. On only three occasions did batters work him for two.

Nineteen Cardinals connected without any called balls on them, six on the first pitch. Of his five strikeouts, four were of the one-two-three variety.

Fiery Ex-Servicemen Carry Eagles' Torch

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Three discharged servicemen are expected to play prominent roles for Boston College in the game with Harvard in the stadium Saturday (3 p. m.). They are Guard

Louis Sammartino, Tackle Eddie King and Right Halfback Tom Carney.

Sammartino is a Providence boy, spent two weeks at Devens, was discharged because of poor eyesight. He stands only 5-6, weighs 165, yet has displayed such a furious charge that he moved ahead of the 220-pound Ed Kehoe at the left guard post. He'll start King was a V-12 at Brown, later stationed at Newport, was discharged after six months of service because of a leg injury. He's a 155-pound six-footer and would be a regular had he started practice earlier. He'll see plenty of service Saturday. He was a top-notch at BC High '42, hasn't quite rounded into trim.

NOVICES WITH SPIRIT

Carney enlisted in the Army at 16, spent 13 months at Ft. Benning and Jackson, was ousted because of his youth. He hasn't yet reached his 18th birthday. He weighs only 160 pounds but he charges into the enemy line as if it was composed of Japs. He played exceptionally well in the scrimmage with Brown. Currently a leg injury is slowing him down, but he'll start Saturday if the leg responds to treatment.

Like the rest of the BC squad (Donelan and Baleyko the only exceptions) Sammartino, King and Carney will be playing their first college game Saturday.

It is indeed a lineup of novices. Ed Callahan last year played at St. James High, Haverhill. Ed Michelowicz was at Central Catholic, Lawrence, Tackle Barrett at Haverhill High, Tackle Lawler at Jamaica Plain High, Guard Sammartino in the Army, qb Cronin at BC High, fb Casey at Amherst High, rb Carney in the Army, before that at Central Catholic High, Lawrence, lb Elliott at Belmont High.

Team B is 100 per cent novice. qb Englert was at BC High, lb Seymour at St. Mary's High, Ogdensburg, rb John Rabbette at Immaculate Conception High, Revere, fb Bill Reardon at Milton High, end Bowditch at St. Clement's High, Tackle King in the Navy, Guard Daily at Belmont High, Center Hogan at Boston Latin.

The team will be playing its first game. Yet it exudes optimism. And watching the high spirits of the squad as it goes through its paces, you realize it won't be disgraced—if indeed it is beaten.

FEW TICKETS LEFT

BC works out in the stadium at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow . . . Of its 15,000 tickets, BC has only 800 left. . . . Donelan and Baleyko will be co-captains Saturday . . . BC's student body will hold a pre-game rally at the Heights tomorrow night . . . Seymour entered BC with 17 A's, a new intercollegiate record . . .

Cocker Spaniel Show Real Lure

The most colorful one-breed dog show of the year will be the 23d annual specialty event of the Cocker Spaniel Breeders Club of New England, to be held at Horticultural Hall, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20-21. For eight of the past nine years the show has been the largest one-breed fixture in the United States, and ever since its inception this show has rated as the richest annual specialty in the world.

Last year's show was for the benefit of Dogs for Defense, and this year's show will be a tribute to O. B. Gilman of Cambridge, founder and guiding genius of the club and its program since the start.

Mr. Gilman had put 61 years in as a hobbyist devoted to the American-type cocker spaniel, which is by far the most popular breed in the United States.

Heroes Hailed

Sweating It Out

Rein which fell in the morning failed to dampen the spirits of these St. Louis baseball fans who jammed the bleachers to root for their favorites in the opening series game. Today the Browns, victors by 2 to 1 in the opener, sent Pitcher Nelson Potter after the Cardinals' scalps. Max Lanier was on the mound for the Cards.
